

The Stacy Jones Band

Winner of the 2010 Best Female Vocalist and 2009 Best New Band awards from the Washington Blues Society, SJB continues to blow fans away with their high-energy, genre bending performances.

Amazing vocals, incredible musicianship, outstanding songwriting and powerful, dynamic arrangements – it's easy to understand why Stacy and her band are captivating the crowds and gathering new fans at each event they perform.

Twenty-Something Stacy Jones not only impresses with a vocal richness beyond her years but is also a top-notch harmonica player as well as playing keyboards and acoustic guitar.

The entertaining trio of Rick Bowen (drums), Tom Jones (bass) and Jeff Menteer (guitar) provides the foundation for a strong ensemble sound and the band's obvious joy of making music together is constantly commented on.

In 2009 The Stacy Jones Band took the Seattle music scene by storm, playing over 115 gigs & festivals as well as winning the Best New Band award from The Washington State Blues Society. The band released a limited edition CD Live at the Triple Door, in September.

The Stacy Jones Band's first full length CD "Long Time Comin'" was released in January 2010 and continues to receive strong airplay and is now in its second pressing. 2011 looks promising for this Northwest favorite.

For lovers of the Blues, mixed in with a little jazz, and a tinge of early 60's and 70's rock, "Long Time Comin'" is one album that is sure to please. I give this CD's, my highest rating, Five  Excellent CD..Thoroughly enjoyed it..Highly Recommended. John Vermilyea (Blues Underground network)
